These Harry Potter advent calendars include Bertie Bott's Every Flavor Beans, ornaments for each Hogwarts house, and many more book, Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone, in June 1997. The series follows a young wizard named Harry Potter and his friends, Hermoine Granger and Ron Weasley, as they attend the Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizard who killed his parents and wants to rule both the wizard and Muggle (non-magical) world. Watch 'the 'Harry Potter' movies $9.99+ After the release of Philosopher's Stone (which was retitled in Sorcerer's Stone in the United States), Rowling went on to release six more Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire, Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix, Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince, and Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows. (Here's how to read the books online for free.) The franchise also released eight movies and made household names out of stars like Daniel Radcliffe, Emma Watson and Rupert Grint. If you've never used an advent calendar before, here's how it works: Each calendar has about 25 paper compartments that fans can open up as they count down the 25 days to Christmas books and other holiday-themed trinkets. If you're someone who can't wait until December 25, advent calendars are an excellent way to scratch that gift-opening itch and unwrap a new present each day. From Bertie Bott's Every Flavor Beans to ornaments for each Hogwarts house, these Harry Potter advent calendars are must-haves for Potterheads. Warner Bros.; Chris Pizzello/Invision/AP Daniel Radcliffe has acted on Broadway as well as in films. Evan Agostini/Invision/AP After the series ended, Radcliffe starred in the horror film "The Woman in Black" (2013), and the rom-com "What If" (2013). He later appeared in Judd Apatow's "Trainwreck" (2015) as the dog walker, costarred as Igor opposite James McAvoy in "Victor Frankenstein" (2015), and played Manny in the film "Swiss Army Man" (2016). The actor has also appeared on TV series like Sky Arts 1's "A Young Doctor's Notebook" and TBS' "Miracle Workers." Outside of film, Radcliffe's theater credits include roles in the 2011 revival of "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," "The Cripple of Inishmaan," and "Endgame."Radcliffe's was also in the Netflix interactive special "Unbreakable Kimmy Vs. the Reverend" (2020). The actor reunited with many of his "Harry Potter" costars for HBO's 20th-anniversary "Return to Hogwarts" reunion special, and he recently starred in "The Lost City" (2022).Radcliffe is set to star in "Weird: The Al Yankovic Story" later this year. Rupert Grint is a successful actor. Charles Sykes/Invision/AP The same year that "Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows - Part 2" (2011) released in theaters, Grint appeared in Ed Sheeran's "Lego House" music video. He went on to appear in films including "Into the White" (2012), "Charlie Countryman" (2013), "CBGB"(2013), and "Moonwalkers" (2015). Grint made his theater debut in the 2014 Broadway play "It's Only a Play" alongside acting giants Matthew Broderick and Nathan Lane. Recently, Grint has found success on TV with roles on Netflix's "Sick Note," Crackle's "Snatch," and Apple TV Plus' "Servant." He also returned for the HBO reunion special. Emma Watson has starred in many films since "Harry Potter." Evan Agostini/Invision/AP In 2011, Watson announced that she would be studying at Brown University. She graduated in 2014 with a bachelor's in English literature. While in school, Watson starred in a number of popular films, including "My Week With Marilyn" (2011), "The Perks of Being a Wallflower" (2012), and "The Bling Ring" (2013). In 2013, Watson also played herself in the Seth Rogen and Evan Goldberg apocalyptic comedy, "This Is the End." In 2017, the English actress starred as Belle in the Disney live-action remake of "Beauty and the Beast," and in 2019 she was part of the star-studded cast of Greta Gerwig's "Little Women." Watson reunited with her old costars for the HBO reunion special. Tom Felton is a successful film and TV actor. Chris Pizzello/Invision/AP After "Harry Potter" wrapped, Felton starred as another villain in "Rise of the Planet of the Apes" (2011), but most of his work has been in smaller-budget dramas and thrillers. Felton has also found success on TV. He played Erich Blunt on TNT's "Murder in the First," Julian Albert on The CW's "The Flash," and his most recent acting credit was in "Braking for Whales" (2020). Felton recently starred in "A Babysitter's Guide to Monster Hunting" (2020) and the Dutch period piece "The Forgotten Battle" (2020). The actor appeared on an episode of the TBS quiz show "Harry Potter: Hogwarts Tournament of Houses" and reunited with his costars on the HBO reunion special. More recently, Felton appeared in "Save the Cinema" (2022), "Canyon del Muerto" (2022), and "Burial" (2022). He's also publishing a memoir titled "Beyond the Wand: The Magic and Mayhem of Growing Up a Wizard." Evanna Lynch has expanded her career beyond acting. Mario Anzuoni/Reuters Lynch continued acting in a handful of films, including "GBF" (2013), "Addiction: A 60's Love Story" (2015), and "My Name is Emily" (2015). In 2013, she reprised her role as Luna in the StarKid Productions musical "A Very Potter Senior Year," which starred Darren Criss. Lynch also competed on "Dancing With the Stars" in 2018 and came in third place. Outside of acting, Lynch is a committed activist. She became an ambassador for controversial "Harry Potter" author JK Rowling's charity, Lumos, and has worked with other organizations like PETA and Save the Asian Elephants. In 2017, Lynch and actor Robbie Jarvis (who played young James Potter in the films) launched a vegan-focused podcast called The ChickPeeps. And in 2019, she received a Lovie Special Achievement Award for "expertly using the Internet to promote vegan activism and environmental health through social media, podcasting and her own beauty line, KinderBeautyBox." She also did voice work on the animated short "Behind the McChicken Wrapper" (2019) and on the animated Nickelodeon series "Rise of the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles. "Lynch recently released her memoir, "The Opposite of Butterfly Hunting," and she returned for the HBO reunion special. She's currently cohosting the podcast "Just Beings" with author and social psychologist Melanie Joy. Julie Walters is a film, TV, and voice actress. Vianney Le Caer/Invision/AP After wrapping on "Harry Potter," Walters continued her successful acting career appearing in "Paddington" (2014), "Brooklyn" (2015), and "Paddington 2" (2017). She also voiced the witch in Pixar's "Brave" (2017). Walters has worked on TV, starring on miniseries like ITV's "The Jury" (2011), BBC's "The Hollow Crown" (2012), and Channel 4's "National Treasure" (2016).
